Variety is the spice of life with ennio

ennio International is the only textile manufacturer globally whose entire purpose is the craft of designing, customising and manufacturing nettings & casings specifically for the meat and poultry industry. They are renowned for delivering a variety of progressive R&D outcomes, providing customers with uniquely bespoke products and specialised service.

This point of difference ensures ennio leads the industry on a path of significant and consistent positive change with R&D at the forefront, which will be evident once again at FoodPro 2017.

With FoodPro and ennio International both commemorating anniversaries; 50 for FoodPro and ennio heading into their 60th year, this year's show promises a wealth of discovery, innovation and celebration with the ennio team. Make sure you visit Stand E42 to catch up on all the news.

Developments on new one-step treatments; incorporating flavours, colours, smoke and spices all lead the R&D charge, along with a veritable bevy of new netting colours, patterns, proprietary shapes and sizes to premiumise your products and revolutionise your procedures, closely behind.

In addition, ennio has new partner affiliations, increasing their international R&D consumer and market communication exchange, the full benefit of which will be afforded to customers in the domestic market, through insight, innovation and product range.

A select few of ennio's partners will be represented on the stand this year, namely ambassadors from Viskase and Walsroder Casings, Tec-Al Spices & Ingredients, Frigo Impianti refrigeration systems, Facchini Group food machinery and R&D specialists in liquid treatments including colours, flavours, smokes, spices and new QRA innovations.

Following Viskase's acquisition of Walsroder Casings Group earlier this year, the impending announcement of ennio as the official Australian Walsroder Casings Distributor coincides with FoodPro, "These are exciting times indeed", says Ennio Mercuri, Managing Director. "We have convened an impressive array of experts in their field with a wealth of information and new innovations to share with our customers, so we are looking forward to the the opportunity to discuss how we could tailor these advances and efficiencies specifically for them at FoodPro".

Nettings and Casings in general have often been described as a commodity in this industry but with trademark ennio style; their R&D ingenuities ensures this to be far from fact, with ennio products and acumen adding value, creating opportunity and increasing proficiencies for your business.

Spice up your products by adding a little ennio colour to your range.
